What is this type of Insurance?

Most motor insurance policies apply an insurance excess, or deductible, which is the amount you are responsible for paying towards any repair costs if your vehicle is damaged or stolen.

This insurance is designed to reimburse you the amount you have had to pay for any excess charge, repair costs or associated expenses under the terms of your motor insurance policy following a successful claim.

What is Insured?

- ✓ Excess Reimbursement: following a claim on your motor insurance policy, we will pay the amount of any excess that you had to pay (up to a maximum reimbursement limit per policy period as shown on your policy schedule).
- ✓ This policy applies if:
 - ✓ the incident that gave rise to the claim under your motor insurance policy occurred between the start and end date of cover of this policy, as stated on your policy schedule.
 - ✓ the claim under your motor insurance policy was successful and was for more than the amount of the excess.

What is not Insured?

- ✗ If the incident that gave rise to the claim under your motor insurance policy happened before the start date of cover, as stated on your policy schedule.
- ✗ If no excess was paid by you or deducted from the claim settlement by the insurer of your motor insurance policy.
- ✗ If your claim under your motor insurance policy was not successful or was for less than the amount of the excess.
- ✗ If the excess you paid was in respect only of glass repair or replacement under your motor insurance policy.
- ✗ If any amount contributed by you or deducted from the settlement of the claim is not a deduction for the excess but for some other reason such as for pre-existing damage to your vehicle.
- ✗ If the excess you paid was under a motor insurance policy and the motor vehicle was used for:
 - ✗ Hire and reward
 - ✗ Any competition, trial, performance test, race or trial of speed, including off-road events, whether between motor vehicles or otherwise, and irrespective of whether this takes place on any circuit or track, formed or otherwise, and regardless of any statutory authorisation of any such event.
 - ✗ Any business uses other than class one business use as normally defined by motor insurers.
 - ✗ Any purpose in connection with the motor trade.
- ✗ If the excess required from you under your motor insurance policy has been/or will be reimbursed by another party.

Are there any restrictions on cover?

- ! You can claim under this excess reimbursement policy more than once during the period of insurance, but we will only reimburse you in total up to the maximum reimbursement limit shown on your policy schedule.
- ! You, the policyholder, must be a permanent resident of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Northern Ireland or the Isle of Man, as defined in your full policy documentation.
- ! You must hold a full valid driving license or hold a full internationally recognised license.
